WILLIAM L. GOLDFARB FOUNDATION

As you know, the APMA Annual Scientific Meeting was held in Philadelphia this past August. Region Three, consisting of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware Podiatric Associations, partnered with APMA and agreed not to have our 2016 meeting so that the members would be directed to the National Meeting.

I am pleased to report that the 68th Annual Region Three Conference is back and will be held once again at the Resorts Hotel and Casino in Atlantic City from May 3-6, 2017.

- Registration will begin on Tuesday evening the May 2 from 5:00 PM – 7:00 PM. You should receive registration information in the mail within the next couple of weeks.
- Our registration fee will remain the same as the 2015 conference—$149 early bird fee for APMA members in good standing—as a result of sponsorship from PICA, Bako CTS, Valeant Pharmaceuticals, and Amerx, Inc. (to date).
- In addition, the Exhibit hall is well on its way to, once again, being sold out.
- Another great lineup of lectures and speakers: Practice Management speakers from the AAPPM, Infectious Disease with Warren Joseph, DPM; the Diabetic Foot with Lee Rogers, DPM; Dermatology, with Bradley Bakotic, DPM, DO; Biomechanics with Louis DeCaro, DPM; Jonathan Moore, Treatment of Leg Ulcers, and Limb Salvage with Andrew Meyr, DPM.
- PICA will be presenting their Risk Management program on Saturday, May 6
- Lunch will once again be included on Thursday and Friday with Valeant Pharmaceuticals offering a non-CECH lunch program on Wednesday.

So, as you can see, Region Three continues to be one of the best scientific values in the country. I encourage you to take advantage of the early registration fees, and reserve your room early. I hope to see you in Atlantic City.

Respectively, Len Portnoy, DPM
Region Three Chairman
